

VANCE-GRANVILLE
COMMUNITY COLLEGE

40 years

REFLECTING

ON OUR PAST

1969-2009

LOOKING AHEAD

TO OUR FUTURE

2009-2010 President's Report

Words of Appreciation

The Vance-Granville Community College family had much to celebrate in the past year, as we reflected upon 40 successful years of providing higher education and training to thousands of people, preparing them for new jobs and opportunities. As we celebrated that success, we attempted to bring the community together, reminding everyone of all that the college has accomplished in the past, and looking ahead to what we might accomplish in the future.

Nevertheless, amidst the celebrations, the past year was a difficult one for our communities and our nation. As economic conditions contributed to increased demand, booming college enrollment had to contend with the constraints of state and local budgets. We are thankful to the state legislators and the county commissioners who have continued to support VGCC and our students.

In this environment, VGCC students, faculty and staff did what they have done for more than 40 years. They rose to the challenge and achieved higher levels of excellence. That was reflected when our college met or exceeded all eight state performance measures for the second year in a row.

In this report, you will learn about how we marked our college's 40th anniversary, and about how we started to write the history of the next four decades. With the strong support of the community that this college enjoys, we plan to continue serving as, in the words of our new college slogan, "Your gateway to endless possibilities."

Randy Parker

President

Vance-Granville Community College

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, I want to commend President Parker and all our faculty, staff and students for a successful anniversary year. In the years since 1969, VGCC has become one of the state's top community colleges and one of the key resources for our region, particularly during an economic downturn. The 40th anniversary celebrations this past year provided a welcome opportunity to remember the people who established, nurtured and grew this institution into what it is today. Those visionaries could not possibly foresee all the opportunities that VGCC would offer our citizens in the 21st century. Today, it is our responsibility to continue their work, because nothing is more important to the progress of our economy and our society than education and training. My fellow trustees and I thank the members of the community for supporting our students and programs yesterday, today and tomorrow.

World View Travels

Brazil 2010

VGCC instructor Tracey Bennett represented the college on a 13-day study trip to Brazil in 2010. She was one of 24 educators who traveled to the world's fifth-most populous country as part of World View, an international program for educators based at UNC-Chapel Hill.

Bennett, who is an instructor for VGCC's Early Childhood Associate program, said that the goal of the "enlightening" trip was to gain an understanding of Brazil's educational, cultural and social systems.

The World View group toured a variety of public and private schools from the elementary to the university level, as well as a community center serving children and the elderly. The Americans learned about various aspects of the society, including the food, traditional dances, racial diversity and poverty.

Tracey Bennett (at right) poses with Brazilian tour guide Rodrigo Braz Vieira at the Christ the Redeemer ("Christ the Redeemer") statue on Corcovado Mountain near Rio de Janeiro.

Peggy McGohan

Jessica Kennedy

Associate Degree Nursing student Jessica L. Kennedy of Oxford was one of just 25 students accepted into the N.C. Community College Student Leadership Institute (SLI) in 2009.

Music Scholarship Recipients

Ambassadors

Academic Excellence Award Winner

Phi Beta Lambda

VGCC's chapter of the Phi Beta Lambda business student organization won several recognitions and awards at the state PBL Fall 2009 Leadership Development Conference and the PBL State Leadership Conference in April 2010 (pictured, right).

Kathy Ktul

Kathy Ktul has worked in community colleges for the past 24 years and also started her education as a community college student.

She earned an Associate in Applied Science degree at Alfred State College, a State University of New York College of Technology. Ktul went on to earn a bachelor's degree at Cornell University and later a master's degree at North Carolina State University.

After serving as a Peace Corps volunteer in Sierra Leone in West Africa for two years, Ktul joined the staff of Wake Technical Community College in 1985. She became Registrar at VGCC in 2001 and later additionally became Director of Admissions and Records. Ktul was recognized this year for the leadership and direction she has provided during the college's conversion to the Datatel computer system, and the WebAdvisor and Campus Cruiser services. Her efforts have been appreciated both by students and by full-time and part-time faculty members.

Michael Stephenson

Michael Stephenson has been an instructor of music at VGCC since 2008 but has been a music educator for 20 years. Stephenson grew up in Henderson and today splits his time between Henderson and Greenville. He earned a bachelor's degree at the North Carolina School of the Arts and his master's in music at Ithaca College in New York.

As a Visiting Artist, Stephenson performed over 400 concerts across North Carolina, as well as at the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C. As an or-

At Vance-Granville Community College's annual convocation in August, President Randy Parker presented several awards to outstanding VGCC employees. Collectively, the honors are known as the Glen Raven Excellence in Teaching and Leadership Awards. Glen Raven, Inc., the manufacturer with a site in Norlina, is a longtime VGCC partner and the largest corporate donor in the history of the college's Endowment Fund. The company's support includes sponsoring the annual stipends to recognize excellence among VGCC instructors and staff members, and endowing many college scholarships.

Mary H. McMannen of Oxford, an Accounting Technician in the VGCC Business Office, was named Staff Member of the Year for 2009, while music instructor Michael Stephenson of Henderson was chosen as the Faculty Member of the Year. Parker also presented the President's Leadership Award to VGCC Director of Admissions and Records/Registrar Kathy Ktul of Louisburg.

chestral saxophonist, he has appeared with the North Carolina, Winston-Salem, Greensboro, and Western Piedmont Symphonies as well as the U.S. Navy Band.

At VGCC, Stephenson created and directs the Vance-Granville Community Band, which combines community college students and interested musicians from throughout the area. He teaches a variety of music courses at VGCC, including Music Appreciation, American Music, Pep Band, Music Fundamentals and Music Theory.

In addition to his duties at VGCC, Stephenson is the soprano saxophonist for the New Century Saxophone Quartet. NCSQ has recorded seven CD's, and has performed in some of the most prestigious venues all over the world. Stephenson and his wife, Cheryl, founded the Music Academy of Eastern Carolina (MAEC), a non-profit community music school, in 1997 in Greenville.

Mary McMannen

Mary McMannen is not only a dedicated veteran employee of VGCC but also a graduate of three different programs at the college.

After earning a GED at VGCC, McMannen enrolled in the college's Executive Secretarial Science program in the fall of 1978. While pursuing her degree, she worked as a work-study student in the VGCC Financial Aid office. That was the beginning of a career for her, as she was hired to work in the Financial Aid office immediately after her graduation in 1980.

Since then, McMannen has worked in various departments related to student affairs, including Admissions and Records. Committed to "lifelong learning," she has taken VGCC classes on taxes and accounting, and graduated with an Associate in Arts degree in 2001. Subsequently, she became an Accounting Technician in the VGCC Business Office.

McMannen has served on numerous college committees, including serving as co-chairperson of the VGCC Professional Advisory Committee and as a member of the alumni sub-committee formed in conjunction with the college's 40th anniversary in 2009.

She graduated both from the VGCC Leadership Institute and from Leadership Granville in 2006.

Critical Success Factors

Vance-Granville Community College met or exceeded all eight of the North Carolina Community College Performance Measures for 2008-09, according to the 2010 Critical Success Factors report from the N.C. Community College System office. The Critical Success Factors report is a compilation of assessments of all 58 community colleges in service provided during the previous academic year. This annual reporting is part of the strict accountability requirements of the North Carolina General Assembly.

REFLECTING ON OUR PAST

On September 4, 2009, Vance-Granville Community College marked exactly 40 years since the college -- then known as Vance County Technical Institute -- was issued its original charter. To celebrate its 40th anniversary, VGCC held a series of events in September and October:

- Sept. 4: 40th Anniversary Celebration, Campus Rededication and Student Appreciation Day on Main Campus
- Sept. 16: 40th Anniversary Celebration, Campus Rededication and Student Appreciation Day on South Campus
- Sept. 23: 40th Anniversary Celebration, Campus Rededication and Student Appreciation Day on Warren County Campus
- Sept. 30: 40th Anniversary Celebration, Campus Rededication and Student Appreciation Day on Franklin County Campus
- Oct. 3: 40th Anniversary Ball in the Civic Center
- Oct. 10: Festival for the 40th on Main Campus
- Oct. 17-26: Splendors of Italy Trip, a "study abroad for the community"

Strategic Planning Process

Looking ahead to our future as to how VGCC will serve our communities was a major focus during the 2009-2010 year. Specifically, the college completed an extensive process of strategic planning for the next five years.

"The goal of the planning process is to identify local economic, social, cultural and educational needs, and then to develop educational solutions to meet those needs," said VGCC President Randy Parker.

The planning process included:

- Gathering input from students, faculty and staff.
- Community Forums in each of the four counties served by VGCC, held at:
 - Main Campus on Jan. 14, 2010
 - South Campus on Jan. 19, 2010
 - Franklin County Campus on Jan. 26, 2010
 - Warren County Campus on Jan. 27, 2010
- Approval of the 2010-2014 Strategic Plan, including a revised Vision Statement, Mission Statement, and Goals, by the Board of Trustees on March 15, 2010.

A small group at the South Campus community forum discussing how to measure the success of VGCC students, programs and services was led by Granville County Schools assistant superintendent Dorwin Howard (standing, right).

Vision

Vance-Granville Community College is a leader in educational services that support the local economy by preparing a globally competitive workforce and developing students' academic and life skills.

Mission

The mission of Vance-Granville Community College is to provide excellent, outcome-based education and training programs that promote and sustain the global competitiveness and the intellectual, economic, social and cultural development of our students and communities.

Goals

1. Maximize student success in courses, programs, graduation and the workforce, insuring that graduates are proficient in communication skills, technological skills, critical thinking, quantitative reasoning, global and cultural awareness, and occupational skills.
2. Promote excellence and innovation in teaching and educational programs designed to help students, faculty and staff achieve personal, academic and career goals.
3. Promote and support economic development through strong academic, technical, workforce development, and training programs that meet business/industry needs.
4. Develop and maintain partnerships with community groups, local schools, and higher education.
5. Ensure fiscal and academic accountability through an effective planning process.
6. Build and maintain safe, secure and sustainable facilities that support the mission of the college.

In 2009-2010, VGCC added women's volleyball to the intercollegiate athletics program, joining men's basketball and golf as National Junior College Athletic Association-level sports opportunities for students. The first VGCC women's volleyball team took the court under head coach Ellis Crews in Fall 2009.

VGCC's second men's basketball season, with Avery Wilson again serving as head coach, was marked by tragedy and triumph. The regular season was cut short when Vanguard's star forward Raymond Dunn (pictured, below, center) collapsed at a home game on Feb. 20, 2010 and died shortly thereafter. Recognized as one of the nation's top junior-college players, Dunn was posthumously named a First-Team All-American for NJCAA Division II and Player of the Year for Region X. After losing their teammate, the Vanguard's returned to the court at the Region X tournament, where they advanced to the semifinals for the second consecutive year.

The golf team, under coach Frank Hester, completed its second season, and the first for the team at the NJCAA level, in the spring of 2010. VGCC golfers played at courses across the state, hosted teams from as far away as Buffalo, New York at Henderson Country Club, and placed fourth at the Region X championship.

Endowment Fund

Awarding more endowed scholarships than any program of its kind in North Carolina, VGCC's Endowment and Scholarship Fund has received more than $6 million in gifts, including funds in trusts naming the college as beneficiary. Over 6,000 scholarships have been awarded to VGCC students through the fund since 1982.

As of June 30, 2010, the Endowment Fund had 319 endowed scholarships for full-time students, as listed in three categories on the following pages.

On May 11, 2010, VGCC's 26th annual Endowment Fund Benefit Golf Tournament generated approximately $19,000.

New Scholarships

Seven new scholarships were endowed during the 2009-2010 academic year and were named in honor/memory of:

Brandon S. Coker, Gean Bobbitt/Guild Gift Gallery, Mike Huffaker, Felix McDaniel, Smith Doss and Claude Monnier, John Weaver, Pratt and Gwen Winston.

Corporate & Private Annual Scholarships

In 2010, a scholarship was endowed in memory of Brandon Scott Coker, a graduate of VGCC's Basic Law Enforcement Training program who died in the line of duty as a Vance County sheriff's deputy. From left, President Randy Parker, Brandon's stepmother, Elaine Coker, his father Wayne Coker, and VGCC coordinator of law enforcement training Tony Pendergrass.
